

Built for farms, lifestyle properties, and rural environments, our rural sheds and workshops provide practical, durable spaces designed around how you work and live. Whether you need machinery storage, a farm workshop, equipment storage, or a multi-purpose building, we create sheds that are made to handle New Zealand conditions.

Every rural shed can be customised to suit your requirements, including size, layout, doors, windows, storage solutions, and internal fit-out options.

Ultra Built Sheds offers fully custom-designed and built sheds, as well as shed kitsets designed for self-build projects. Timber and steel options are available, with steel solutions particularly suited to larger rural, commercial, and industrial applications where durability and low maintenance are essential.
